Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy Statement 2021

AMELEC Instruments has a zero-tolerance approach to slavery and human trafficking and is committed to preventing these acts from occurring within both the workplace and supply chain.

We have due diligence processes in place to reduce the risk of slavery and human trafficking occurring within our business and supply chain, including;

- Making our staff aware of the Modern Slavery Act.
- Making our staff aware of the definitions of slavery and human trafficking in the workplace.
- Operating a whistle-blowing policy, with all employees knowing they can raise any concerns about anything within our business or supply chain, without fear of any reprisals.

Although AMELEC has a very well established and trusted supply chain in place, we have also recognised that some may in turn have their own subcontractors.

We therefore make our same high standards and expectations clear to all of our suppliers and other business partners.

This policy is communicated to all employees, suppliers and other business partners, and is made available to the public.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "R. Lofley", is written over a horizontal line.
